

The South West Neonatal Network
Presents
Neonatal Health Professionals
Conference 2024

Delegate Pack

Venue
Cadbury House Hotel
Frost Hill
Congresbury
Bristol
BS49 5AD
Tel: 020 3027 6614

In Partnership With

Overview

Overview	2
Meet the Network Team	3
Speaker Profiles	4 - 8
Agenda - Day One	9
Workshops - Day One	10 - 11
Agenda - Day Two	13
Workshops - Day Two	14
Wellbeing	15
Venue Details	16
With Special Thanks	17

We look forward to welcoming you to the conference. We recognise the importance in feeling comfortable and prepared, with that in mind there is no formal dress code for the conference. Please feel free to dress casually.

The suggested dress code for evening entertainment: dinner, music and dancing is smart casual. Again, it's important that everyone feels comfortable and that this event remains accessible. If you have any questions, please contact SW Neonatal ODN Officers.

We are committed to facilitating a paper free event - if you cannot find the relevant information you require within this pack, please contact swneonatalnetwork@uhbw.nhs.uk

Meet the Network Team

Dr Adam Smith-Collins
Clinical Director

Mary Leighton
Network Manager

Robyn Smart
Senior Lead Nurse

Rachel Harrison
PA & Admin Lead

Jessica Talbert
Neonatal Nurse Education Lead

Jo Bennett
Lead Nurse for Transition

Georgina French
Evaluation and Engagement Lead

Andy Keen
Data Manager and Analyst

Maxine Thompson
Care Coordinator

Debbie Hunt
Care Coordinator

Lesley Proctor
Project Support Officer

Patrick Winch
Neonatal Governance
Data Administrator

Kate Whiting
Lead Occupational Therapist

Marina Sloan
Lead Speech & Language
Therapist

Heather Norris
Lead Dietitian

Helen Robinson
Lead Physiotherapist

Samantha Cole
Lead Clinical Psychologist

Speaker Profiles

Dr Davy Evans

Consultant Clinical Psychologist

Dr Davy Evans works as a consultant clinical psychologist in neonatal care in England, UK. He splits his time between clinical work in a large neonatal intensive care unit, as the Lead Neonatal Psychologist for the West Midlands Perinatal Network, and in independent practice. As a co-founding member of NeoLeaP, the Neonatal Leads for Psychological Practice in England, Davy is helping to expand and develop the role of psychological professionals in neonatal care. Davy holds both research and clinical doctoral degrees and is an advocate for evidence-based psychological practice. He has published on a wide range of topics including adult mental health, psychophysiology, paediatric and neonatal psychology. Relationships are at the heart of Davy's approach to psychological practice, and his understanding of neonatal care.

Sonah Paton

Founder and Managing Director - Black Mothers Matter

Sonah is a mother to three. Her first child was born pre-term after Sonah went into spontaneous labour at 28 weeks. Her other 2 children were born full-term, the youngest in a pool at home. Sonah has a BSc Economics & Sociology from University of Bristol. She has spent 10+ years working in graphic design agencies across the south west as a project manager for FMCG clients. Following her first child she returned to work on a freelance part time basis. More recently she has switched her focus to community projects and is an ex-director at St Paul's Adventure Playground, Bristol. www.blackmothersmatter.org

Sarah Edney

Speech and Language Therapist | Doctoral Fellow

Sarah is a speech and language therapist who has specialised in neonatology and paediatric feeding for over 10 years. She has also been an active researcher for the past 8 years, during which time she has completed two research internships, an NIHR MSc in Clinical Research, an NIHR Pre-doctoral Clinical Academic Fellowship, and the NIHR North West Coast CRN Research Scholars Programme. She is currently undertaking a Wellcome 4Ward North PhD Fellowship at Newcastle University. Her studies are focused on factors influencing feeding outcomes following HIE, with view to informing parent education materials and the development of HIE-specific feeding interventions

Dr Sam Oddie

Consultant Neonatologist

Sam is a reformed southerner. Raised in London, he spent formative training years in the North East among wise paediatricians. Acquiring an interest in matters epidemiological along the way, he trained as a paediatrician, specialising in neonatology. Two sojourns in New Zealand, and a top up of training in Edinburgh as a locum consultant led to his heart's desire. Rather to his mother's surprise this turned out to be a job in Bradford. The neonatal service is large, busy, and not dominated by anomalies. It is also on the edge of the city, allowing Sam and family to live in the countryside, grow vegetables and plan trips to wild places while being within 10 minutes of work. His work involves a busy intensive care service, neonatal follow up, research (trials and observational work and some work with Born in Bradford – our 13000 baby cohort study) and being clinical lead for the National Neonatal Audit Programme. He holds an honorary chair at Hull York Medical School. He has research interests in many areas of newborn care.

Amy Brett

Author | Parent with Neonatal Lived Experience

Amy Brett is based in South London where she lives with her husband and two daughters. Her book, Twenty-four Plus Six, tells the story of the terrifying roller-coaster ride she was suddenly flung onto when her youngest daughter arrived only twenty-four weeks and six days into her pregnancy, and was immediately rushed to intensive care. Amy has written for the Early Birth Association, Ickle Pickles, and Bliss. Her Blog, Life of a Premie Mum, draws upon her Philosophy degree from the University of Cambridge, tackling difficult ethical, moral, and social questions about prematurity. Her posts discuss the crazy, terrifying, heart-wrenching parenting moments that life becomes filled with when you become a mum to a premature baby. In 2020, Amy helped her eldest daughter write a children's book called My Very Little Sister and the Very Big Story to support siblings of babies born prematurely or poorly. Before giving up paid work to look after her children full time, Amy established a charity in Peru and went on to hold several leadership roles in UK charities, including Macmillan Cancer Support and Victim Support, where she was Head of Volunteering.

Dr Matthew Hill

Consultant Anaesthetist

Matt is a consultant anaesthetist at Derriford Hospital, Plymouth and has a particular interest in patient safety, safety culture and quality improvement. He is National Clinical Advisor on Safety Culture to NHS England and the Maternity Transformation Programme and is a Health Foundation Generation Q Fellow.

Prof Nigel J Hall

Professor of Paediatric Surgery

Nigel is Professor of Paediatric Surgery at the University of Southampton, Consultant Paediatric and Neonatal Surgeon and Clinical Lead for neonatal surgery at Southampton Children's Hospital. He is passionate about delivering high class surgical care to term and preterm neonates with a range of congenital and acquired surgical conditions. Particular areas of interest are Necrotising Enterocolitis and Oesophageal Atresia, and he leads an active research program into both of these conditions aiming to generate an evidence base to support improvements in clinical care and ultimately improve patient outcomes

Lisa Ward

Relationship Manager and Facilitator, Belbin Ltd

Lisa has been part of the Belbin Head office team for nearly eight years and has a wealth of experience working with teams in both the public and private sectors. Her focus areas include leadership, conflict resolution, organisational change, team development, and team coaching. She is dedicated to helping teams and individuals reach their full potential and maintain high performance levels. Belbin's mission is to provide a universal language for teams worldwide, enabling individuals to identify their strengths and collaborate more effectively to cultivate successful teams.

Diane Keeling

Nurse Consultant

I am Diane Keeling, a neonatal nurse, currently working in the role of Consultant Practitioner at University Hospitals Plymouth NHS Trust (UHP). I am delighted to be joining the SW ODN conference to speak about nurse career pathways, exploring the many opportunities within neonatal services as roles continue to expand and develop. I have years of experience in education, working in partnership with Plymouth University to deliver enhanced and advanced practice modules. As an advanced practitioner (AP) for 20 years, I have experience of integrating new roles, creating opportunity, and developing services. Recently I have worked with the Centre for Advancing Practice at NHS England, to help identify areas where Advancing Practice can impact upon health services and create opportunity for nurse progression. Within this role I have developed models for clinical supervision, was a member of the working group for the multi professional paediatric AP Framework and chaired the Neonatal Standards QIS programme. As BAPM Nurse Representative I supported the development of the ANNP Career Capability Framework and promoted a multi-disciplinary approach to neonatal education and care delivery. I am currently the NNA Advance Practice Lead for the Education pillar, sharing my experience to support others in their AP journey. As a NNA research scholar I am currently exploring Neonatal Nurse Led QI projects nationally, to identify the enablers and barriers for these projects and look forward to sharing the results at future conferences. I hope you enjoy the conference; I look forward to meeting you there.

Alex Mancini

National Lead Nurse for Neonatal Palliative Care

Alex Mancini is the National Lead Nurse for Neonatal Palliative Care leading the National Neonatal Palliative Care Project and leads the National Palliative & Bereavement Care Neonatal Nurses Network. Currently the Co-Chair reviewing BAPM's Perinatal Palliative Care framework with Dr Edile Murdoch. Alex has published widely and is the Lead Editor for the 'Neonatal Palliative Care for Nurses' published January 2020

Rosie Milbourn

Neonatal Clinical Educator

Rosie is a qualified nurse of 32 years, most of which has been spent in neonatal nursing. She trained at Great Ormond St Hospital as an RGN/RSCN and from there, up until 2010, worked on level 2 and level 3 neonatal units in Kent. She progressed to working as ward manager on the neonatal unit at Maidstone Hospital and also spent some time as a Baby and Child Advisor for Boots the Chemist. After relocating back to Lancashire, she worked at Blackpool neonatal unit for 10 years, where she worked clinically on Neonatal Outreach as a clinical educator and as a ward manager. She was also seconded to a lecturer post at the University of Central Lancashire (UCLan) where she taught on undergraduate neonatal modules and the QIS programme. Since 2020, she has worked as an educator with the North West Neonatal ODN where she has predominantly worked on the Foundation in Neonates (FiN) programme, which is the first part of the QIS pathway, and more recently she has developed a FiN programme for international nurses.

Prof Charles Roehr

Neonatologist and Clinical Scientist

Charles is a neonatal intensivist and clinical scientist, is Associate Professor of Paediatrics at the University of Oxford. Since 2019, he is the Clinical Director of the Clinical Trials Unit within the National Perinatal Epidemiology Unit (NPEU), Dept. Population Health, Medical Sciences Division, University of Oxford. Charles works as an Honorary Professor of Neonatology and Perinatal Research, University of Bristol. Charles's special interest is neonatal stabilization/ resuscitation and non-invasive respiratory support. Charles is a Fellow of the Royal College of Paediatrics and Child Health, UK and Research Fellow at Green Templeton College, Oxford. Charles is an avid researcher and a strong proponent of evidence-based neonatology. His main interests are in resuscitation and non-invasive ventilation, on which he has published over 175 peer reviewed scientific articles. On the European level, Charles is very active as President of the European Society for Paediatric Research (ESPR) and he is the immediate-past NLS Scientific Co-Chair (European Resuscitation Council). Personal interests are time with family (3 kids), photography, hiking and traveling.

Steven Hargreaves

Founder of The Compassionate Leadership Company

Steve Hargreaves is an award-winning Executive Coach and Mentor, Author, of 'The Compassionate Leader's Playbook', and the Founder and Director of The Compassionate Leadership Company - a coaching, culture, and leadership development company which specialises in helping organisations and their leaders to inspire, craft and sustain high performing, emotionally healthy, compassionate workplaces where everyone has the opportunity to thrive, achieve and stay well. With over 20 years of senior leadership experience of leading change and modernising large scale, operational services across local government, regulated care, and charitable sectors. A pioneer in the Freedom to Speak Up Movement, undertaking the role of Freedom to Speak Up Guardian for a national health care charity, working to build more compassionate, connected, and collaborative workplace cultures underpinned by high levels of trust and inter-personal safety.

- Recognised as one of the Top 40 global organisational culture champions in 2022.
- Managing Director of the Year 2023 – Innovation in Leadership and Organisational Development

He lives on the North Somerset coast with his family, his dog, and his chickens. Click here for contact details, links to Steve's book and further information.

Emma Foulerton

Neonatal Physiotherapist

Emma qualified in 2002 from Keele University and completed her junior rotations at the University Hospital of North Staffordshire. She moved to Birmingham in 2004 to pursue her interest in paediatrics. Whilst working in both the acute and community paediatric settings in Birmingham she also enjoyed periods of travelling in Africa working as a physio and completed an MSc at UCL in 2009. Since 2014 she has taken on the role of Neonatal Network Lead Physiotherapist for the West Midlands Neonatal Network, and also continues to work a few shifts on PICU at Birmingham Childrens Hospital. She is secretary for the Association of Paediatric Chartered Physiotherapists Neonatal Committee, and as part of this commitment supported the development of the Neonatal AHP HEE online learning modules. Outside of work, she has 4 children and a dog that keep her busy! She enjoys walking, cycling, camping, and sewing - and wishes there was more time in the day to fit it all in!

Rachel Tims

Clinical Training and Education Senior Specialist

A registered nurse, with over 30 years of experience in roles within Higher Education, NHS Trusts and now NHS England, I have been able to contribute to and support meaningful and positive change with respect to practice and policy through teaching, research, supervision, coaching and leadership. I am a proud and passionate advocate of the learner's voice and student experience. My research interests have focused on the staff and student experience of learning, teaching, with a special interest in the socialisation and transition of staff and students.

Day One - Agenda

Cadbury House Hotel
Frost Hill
Congresbury
Bristol
BS49 5AD
Tel: 020 3027 6614

2nd May 2024

9:00 - 17:30

- 9:00 - 9:45 Registration - Coffee and Pastries
- 10.00 - 10.15 Welcome
- 10.15 - 11.00 Sonah Paton - Disparities in neonatal outcomes - moving towards the bravery and honesty needed to talk thoughtfully about racial disparities.
- 11:00 - 11:45 Amy Brett – A NICU Stay is more than a birth story, it's a life story.
- 11.45 - 12.15 Coffee | Stalls | Posters
- 12.15 - 13.00 Dr Davy Evans – Relational practice in the neonatal unit: cultivating closeness and compassion
- 13:00 - 14:00 Lunch | Stalls | Posters
- 14:00 - 14:45 Dr Sam Oddie – Neonatal Data: The SW Story
- 14:45 - 15:30 Sarah Edney – Improving feeding outcomes following neonatal brain injury: Why does it matter and what should we do?
- 15:30 - 16:00 Coffee | Stalls | Posters
- 16:00 - 16:45 Adam Smith-Collins and Friends – BAPM Airway Framework – Panel Discussion
- 16:45 - 17:15 Poster Presentation
- 17:15 - 17:30 Close

14:00 - 17:15 Workshops

Two workshops are running concurrently with the full agenda - see over for details

Day One - Workshops

2nd May 2024

14:00 - 17:15

Cadbury House Hotel
Frost Hill
Congresbury
Bristol
BS49 5AD
Tel: 020 3027 6614

We are pleased to be offering pre-bookable workshops and resources to support your learning and personal development

We hope that listening to the presentations at our conference will inspire your mind, leaving you buzzing with many different exciting ideas to take away. The available workshops invite you to engage in a different way: moving from breadth to depth, allowing you to tune into your curiosity and connection with a community of like-minded people.

Each workshop will run twice during the afternoon of day one. Spaces are limited and you will need to pre-book. Booking details have been circulated.

14:00 - 15:15

Workshop 1: Lisa Ward & Tracey Eke – Using Belbin to support you & your team

Workshop 2: Dr Davy Evans – Relational practice in action

16:00 - 17:15

Workshop 1: Lisa Ward & Tracey Eke – Using Belbin to support you & your team

Workshop 2: Dr Davy Evans – Relational practice in action

Workshop 1

Dr Davy Evans - Relational Practice in Action

Through a range of experiential and reflective exercises, this workshop will provide space to explore your relationship with your work and the families you care with. This will be an opportunity to slow down, think, feel and experiment with new ways of interacting with babies, families, colleagues and yourself, with the aim of increasing relational connection and safety. You will meet strategies to help you navigate these relationships, especially when you are feeling under pressure."

"Connection before Correction: Before you act to try and help someone, can you pause and connect with how you are feeling and how they are?"

NEOLEAP

Day One - Workshops

2nd May 2024

14:00 - 17:15

Cadbury House Hotel
Frost Hill
Congresbury
Bristol
BS49 5AD
Tel: 020 3027 6614

Workshop 2

What is Belbin and how might it work for me and my team?

The logo for Belbin, featuring the word "BELBIN" in white, bold, uppercase letters on a dark green rectangular background. A registered trademark symbol (®) is located to the upper right of the text.

Belbin have kindly supported the SW Neonatal ODN Professionals conference by offering all conference delegates the opportunity to undertake the Belbin Individual report. You will receive a link to complete your Belbin Survey directly to your supplied email address. Please get in touch if you have not received this.

Belbin Workshops:

Due to the practical and engaging nature of these workshops are capped at 30 people. If you are interested in exploring your personal Belbin report, or would like to understand more about how Belbin might support you and your team please make sure you sign up for this really interesting opportunity.

Whoever you are and wherever you are, Belbin works for you.

- Our mission is to bring the language of Belbin Team Roles to individuals, teams and organisations worldwide. To help people discover their strengths, work more effectively together and build high-performing teams.
- Belbin reports, training and exercises are all based on the Team Role theory developed by Dr Meredith Belbin in the 1970s. Studied on management courses around the world, and used every day in tens of thousands of organisations, Belbin Team Roles have become the gold-standard method for identifying behavioural contributions in the workplace.

It starts with the Belbin Individual report

- The Belbin Individual report analyses someone's contributions in terms of the nine Belbin Team Roles.
- It offers advice and guidance on how we might work best, announce our preferences to others and cultivate latent talents.
- Identifying our behavioural styles is the first step towards increasing self-understanding and building more effective working practices.
- Each individual needs to understand their key strengths and how to articulate how they prefer to work. This increases employee engagement, allows managers to allocate work more effectively and builds mutually beneficial working relationships with colleagues.

Day One - Evening Entertainment

2nd May 2024 19:00 - 23:00

We look forward to an evening of connection and networking

19:00 Drinks in the bar

19:30 Dinner

20:30 Music & Dancing

23:00 Carriages

“YOU WILL ALWAYS BELONG ANYWHERE YOU SHOW UP AS YOURSELF AND TALK ABOUT YOURSELF AND YOUR WORK IN A REAL WAY”
BRENE BROWN

Day Two - Agenda

3rd May 2024

9:00 - 16:15

Cadbury House Hotel
Frost Hill
Congresbury
Bristol
BS49 5AD
Tel: 020 3027 6614

- 9:00 - 9:15 Registration - Coffee and Pastries
- 9:15 - 9:30 Rachel Tims - Welcome and Laughing Yoga
- 9:30 - 10:15 Rachel Tims & Lucy Duncombe - Developing a compassionate culture for learners and the wider team
- 10:15 - 11:00 Prof Nigel Hall - Keynote: The Surgical Management for Necrotising Enterocolitis
- 11:00 - 11:30 Coffee | Stalls
- 11:30 - 12:15 Round One Workshops | Seminars
Option 1 - Diane Keeling - Neonatal Career Development
Option 2 - Dr Matt Hill - Compassionate Moments in Practice
Option 3 - Lucy Duncombe & Rachel Tims - Safe Learning Environment Charter
- 12:15 - 13:00 Round Two Workshops | Seminars
Option 1 - Prof Charles Roehr - Research in Focus: NeoCLEAR
Option 2 - Rosie Milbourn - International Recruitment - The NW Journey & Learning
Option 3 - Emma Foulerton - Respiratory Physiotherapy - Past and Present
- 13:00 - 14:00 Lunch | Stalls
- 14:00 - 14:45 Alex Mancini - Neonatal Palliative Care: The Pathway Approach
- 14:45 - 15:30 Steve Hargreaves - Keynote: Compassionate Leadership
- 15:30 - 16:00 Reflection on Compassionate Leadership and Conference Learning
- 16:00 - 16:15 Close

“Every interaction is an intervention: Are we contributing to safeness and soothing, or are we dialling up threat?”

Day Two - Workshops and Seminars

3rd May 2024

11.30 - 13.00

Cadbury House Hotel
Frost Hill
Congresbury
Bristol
BS49 5AD
Tel: 020 3027 6614

Emma Foulerton - Respiratory Physiotherapy - Past and Present

The session will look at some of the history around respiratory physiotherapy techniques used for airway clearance on neonatal units in the past. Moving forward, the session will look at what options there are today for optimising ventilation distribution and maintaining a clear airway

Diane Keeling - Neonatal Career Development

An overview of what it means to be a nurse in neonatal care today. Exploration of the opportunities, and perceived threats, as we broaden our neonatal workforce and develop new skill sets which blur traditional professional boundaries. As our future neonatal workforce continues to evolve, what might that mean for neonatal nurses?

Rosie Milbourn - International Recruitment

Following the NCCR, more and more neonatal units are recruiting international nurses with valuable neonatal experience. In order to support these nurses during their first few months on a neonatal unit in our region, the North West Neonatal ODN has devised a Foundation programme which addresses their specific needs. The aim of the programme is to support nurses who are not only trying to adapt to a new country but are also trying to navigate specific neonatal processes and protocols that are entirely new to them. During this session Rosie will share with you the programme that's run, together with the interesting experiences our international nurses have shared and the importance of involving all members of the team when supporting one another

Lucy Duncombe and Rachel Tims - Safe Learning Environment Charter

The Safe Learning Environment Charter supports the development of positive safety cultures and continuous learning across all learning environments in the NHS. It is underpinned by principles of equality, diversity, and inclusion. The Charter was created in response to healthcare learners' feedback on their clinical experiences in maternity services, set out in the Kirkup (2015 and 2022) and Ockenden (2020 and 2022) reports. This workshop will explore what the charter means for you as a supportive professional and for your wider team.

Matt Hill - Compassionate Moments in Practice

MOMENTS is based on research that started by looking at what contributed to a good safety culture in sites that performed well on the NHSE Safety Culture survey. We found that sites with positive safety cultures shared similar values; Transparency, openness and authenticity, Respect and compassion, Passion and commitment, Staff empowerment, Attentiveness to staff wellbeing, Mutuality, trust and dialogue, Civility, Collegiality and inclusivity, Unity, coherence and consistency. The aim of this session is to spark discussion and deliberation, to encourage reflection and curiosity and to enable staff to shape the development of their service/unit's local safety culture

Charles Roehr - Research in Focus - NeoCLEAR

NeoCLEAR: Neonatal Champagne Lumbar punctures Every time – An RCT is a multicentre, randomised controlled trial to investigate techniques to increase lumbar puncture success in newborn babies. Lumbar puncture is a procedure performed to diagnose meningitis or another neurological condition, and sometimes as treatment for certain neurological problems. The main aim of the NeoCLEAR trial is to understand if there is a best technique for achieving a successful lumbar puncture in newborn babies, 'best' being defined as the technique which produces the clearest sample of cerebrospinal fluid (CSF) in the fewest possible number of attempts. <https://www.npeu.ox.ac.uk/neoclear/general-information>. This workshop will consider how NeoCLEAR can be implemented on your unit and the implications for families and infants.

Wellbeing Offer

We understand that stepping away from work and connecting over education and experiences can be restorative for us all. But we also recognise that it may positively disrupt us into a reflective place, raising emotions and feelings that we're not sure what to do with. Taking care of yourself and each other during the conference is a priority. We have put together the following wellbeing offer to support you during your time away from your day to day work.

Wellbeing Space

We are grateful for the time we have to come together to connect and reflect on the important work that we all do. We recognise that throughout the day there may be times where you need to take a break. We will have a dedicated space for relaxation, reflection and quiet. You will find magazines, sensory input and an opportunity to disengage from the main conference agenda. We will clearly signpost you to this throughout the two days.

Laughing Yoga

Laughing yoga is a way of using breathing techniques and deliberate laughter to release natural endorphins, increase blood flow and encourage deeper breathing. It does not involve moving into yoga positions it simply involves laughter, and more laughter, this can reduce stress and anxiety. Why not join us to either laugh at us or with us, and see how it makes you feel.

Reflective Journals

As part of your conference pack, we will be supplying you with a plain ruled journal, we hope this is supportive when you consider how to reflect on the learning and sharing throughout the conference. Reflective practice helps us to notice, understand and learn from our experiences. Reflection is a deliberate process of creating meaning from what happens, using our thoughts, feelings and behaviours at the time as valuable information. Reflection can happen within seconds to guide practice in the moment, or it can be a longer analysis after an event. The aim is to help ourselves become more aware of the knowledge we have gained from an experience, so that we can connect theory to practice. The purpose of this is to guide improved decision making for future action - both for ourselves and the people we work with. It can also help us to acknowledge and respond skillfully to the personal impact of the work upon ourselves.

Neonatal Park Run led by Patrick Turton, SoNAR

"I love running – uphill, downhill, and along the flats. Along pavements, paths, and rivers. In the rain, sun, and snow...count me in! Running is an accessible activity which is sociable, affordable and, definitely (!!*) fun...Whether escaping for 20 minutes from the daily grind, or a 5 hour adventure further afield – I'm a big believer that it is all worth doing, and plan on having running a part of my life for a long time!" Patrick will lead the SWNODN parkrun at 7am on Friday 3rd May - please meet by the Hotel Reception.

Venue Details

2nd and 3rd May 2024

By Car

There is ample parking within the grounds. Parking is complimentary for delegates. Please ensure you register number plates with the hotel reception to ensure you are not fined or charged.

From the North

Travel southbound onto the M5, take junction 20 (Clevedon). Turn left at the first roundabout and turn left again at the second roundabout (B3133) heading for Congresbury. Travel for approximately 4 miles and DoubleTree by Hilton, Cadbury House is on the left.

From the South

Travel northbound on the M5, take junction 21 (Weston-super-Mare). Follow the A370 to Congresbury. Follow main road through Congresbury to second set of traffic lights. Turn left for Yatton (B3133). Pass Cadbury Garden Centre on your right. Cadbury House can be found a further 500m on the right.

By Public Transport

Cadbury House is conveniently located near to Yatton train station. Trains from London Paddington run directly to Yatton station every hour. Bristol Temple Meads train station is located 12.5 miles from the hotel and Yatton station is just 1.5 miles away. A number of Great Western Railway's new Intercity Express trains also now call at Yatton station, offering a faster service. If you are travelling from Bristol City Centre, you can take either the X1 (runs every 30 mins) or the X2 (runs hourly) from the bus station.

Cadbury House Hotel
Frost Hill
Congresbury
Bristol
BS49 5AD
Tel: 020 3027 6614

With Special Thanks

To our partner
The NICU Foundation

To our generous sponsors

Contact Us

SWNeonatalNetwork@uhbw.nhs.uk
www.swneonatalnetwork.co.uk

SOUTH WEST
NEONATAL NETWORK